Dapper Dan Doll

FINALLY! After years of day dreaming, wishing, hoping, and then having Retro Lovely take a hiatus... I have made it on a cover! From the first photoshoot, I have been patiently waiting for the chance to grace the cover of Retro Lovely. It's taken 7 years of hard work, honing skills and abilities and finding photographers to work with.

Dapper Dan Doll is my alter ego. My real name is Danielle and some of my pinup friends (Okay, most of my friends are pinups) call me Dapps. Dapps and I are the same person but she's more of an extension of my personality like a third nipple or an extra finger; people think it's weird for a while but it's just a part of you and they finally just accept it. 7 years ago I started searching for something (before my mid life crisis) and found pinup. I managed to step into a world that was exactly who I felt I was all along. A vintage everything lover, mid century style connoisseur; if its old, I want it. Dapps was born.

Shortly after I started getting into shooting, my first goal was to be on a cover of Retro Lovely. Then I realized I wasn't that good so I really just said "a cover". Well, shortly after I started shooting I got a half page in Retro Lovely. It was far from the cover I had dreamed of. No, really, it was in the back half of the back half of the publication. But look at me now, Ma! I made it to my dreams! Another item checked off the pinup bucket list and I hope you enjoy it with me.

Dapps has had her ups and downs in pinup, she's still not famous but she's loved every second of her time in another time and has made amazing friends in this kooky scene. Today, Dapps and I are always looking to shoot where ever a great photographers can be found and working the selfie game over on OnlyFans. So find me on social media and hang out for a while!

Hi everyone!

I'm Melissa La Lucy and it's my pleasure to make your acquaintance...

As a little girl, I was always fascinated with the glamour of old Hollywood and the sirens of the silver screen. I used to watch old movies with my grandmother and I even took ballet and tap dance lessons so that I could try to learn Fred Astaire's and Ginger Rogers' routines. I never could; too complicated for me... Nowadays, I do pole dancing and aerial silks for fitness instead. I'm constantly covered in bruises!

When I discovered Bettie Page, she quickly became one of my pin-up idols. I adore her style, her sass, and her sense of humour.

Pin-up is one of my favourite modeling genres and I love all varieties from classic to rockabilly, cute and cheeky, to bad girl and fetish. There's just so much you can work with!

I've been modeling for many years. I didn't start out in pin-up, although I think that's where I always should have been. Now, as an older model, I think it's important to represent women in my age group. I want to show the world that age shouldn't be a barrier to looking and feeling good about yourself. Models should represent all of society.

Each time I get a feature or a cover, it's a huge honour. I'm just happy that people like what I do. Thank you xxx
